PART 1: GETTING STARTED

Hiring and Training/ Equal Employment Opportunity

It is the Company's desire to hire and retain qualified employees who are dedicated to providing excellent patient care as well as maintaining the highest level of ethical standards. Employment will be based on merit, qualifications, education, abilities, and experience as well as specific staffing requirements.

The Company's policy is to provide equal employment opportunity to all applicants and employees without regard to race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, national origin, disability, genetic information, or military status or any other legally protected status in accordance with applicable state and local laws governing nondiscrimination in employment.

Once all required employment documentation has been received, new employees will be required to attend an orientation to assess clinical skills for competence. Required documents include a valid driver's license, social security card, current American Heart Association CPR card, professional licensure, automobile insurance, and TB skin test. Employees will not be released to work until all documents are received and skills are deemed competent. Employees will be given the opportunity to orient with new patients before working independently. On-going training is also available as needed, based on the discretion of Administration.

Employment Classifications

The following terms will be used to describe employment classifications and status.

Full-Time Employee

Full-time employees are those who are regularly scheduled to work at least 30 hours per week. Full-time employees are eligible for Company paid benefits after 90 days of employment.

Part-Time Employee

Part-time employees are those who are regularly scheduled to work fewer than 30 hours per week. Part-time employees are not eligible for Company paid benefits.

PRN Employee

PRN employees work on an as needed basis but are required to work at least 12 hours per month. PRN employees are not eligible for Company paid benefits.

Active/Inactive Status

Nurses must work the minimum monthly PRN requirement in order to be considered active. An employee will be considered inactive and listed as such if he or she does not meet the PRN requirement during a consecutive two month period.

Personnel Records

It is important that the Company maintain accurate and up-to-date personnel records. You are responsible for notifying the Company of any change in name, home address, telephone number, marital status, number of dependents, immigration status, or any other pertinent information. All state licensure, CPR certification, TB risk assessments, flu records, and driver's license must be maintained at all times. Failure to keep these items up-to-date may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination based on the discretion of Administration.

CPR Certification

The Company requires that CPR certification remain current throughout employment. CPR certifications must be in compliance with current policy. Employees may contact the office or visit www.NPLH.us/staff for more information on requirements and available classes.

TB Skin Test

Proof of a TB skin test or chest x-ray and a risk assessment/symptom screening is required for employment. The risk assessment/symptom screening must be updated yearly to continue employment. If a risk is identified, further evaluation may be required.

Influenza Vaccine

The Company is required to offer the influenza vaccination to all employees at no cost. Information on how to obtain the vaccine will be provided to all employees yearly. The Company is also required to maintain a declination statement on record of any employee who refuses the vaccine.

COVID-19 Vaccine

CMS requires all healthcare workers be vaccinated against COVID-19. Proof of vaccination is required prior to employment. CMS requires facilities to allow for exemptions to staff with recognized medical conditions for which vaccines are contraindicated (as a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)) or religious beliefs, observances, or practices (established under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964). For this reason, No Place Like Home, Inc. will entertain requests for exemption.

Performance Evaluations

Performance evaluations are required by the State and will be given annually to all field nurses. All performance evaluations will be completed in writing by a Supervisor or Executive Director on the form designated by the Company and reviewed during a face-to-face meeting, if possible. Several factors considered in your evaluation include professionalism/appearance, dependability, attitude, quality of work, clinical knowledge, initiative, adaptability, communication, any disciplinary actions, and year to year improvement in overall performance.

Office Hours/On-Call Line

The business office is open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday, except for designated holidays. However, we provide patient care services up to 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. For that reason, we have an on-call line available 24/7 at 901-853-3999. The on-call number should be used for emergencies only. All non-emergent matters should be handled during regular business hours. The on-call line is designed for nursing emergencies, patient care matters and to report when a nurse will not be able to make his or her shift. The on-call line is not to be used to check schedules.

Attendance and Punctuality

It is important for you to report to work on time and to avoid unnecessary absences. The Company recognizes that illness or other circumstances beyond your control may cause you to be absent from work from time to time. However, excessive absenteeism or tardiness may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination based on the discretion of Administration. Excessive absenteeism and frequent tardiness put an unnecessary strain on the patients, their families, and your coworkers and can have a negative impact on the success of the Company.

You are expected to report to work when scheduled and complete the shift in its entirety. Whenever you know in advance that you are going to be absent, you must notify the staffing department immediately but no later than 72 hours in advance for non-emergencies. The Company will do its best to honor all time off requests. If your absence is unexpected, we request a notice of no later than 12 hours in advance. We understand that last minute emergencies will occur, and such notice will not be possible. In that instance, documentation of your absence may be requested.

Excessive Absenteeism/Tardiness

Excessive absenteeism is considered 3 or more unexcused absences per month. Excessive tardiness is considered 3 or more late arrivals of 15 minutes or more per month. Absenteeism or tardiness that is unexcused or excessive based on the discretion of Administration may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

 If you must come in late, leave early, or miss work due to a serious health condition under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or a disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Company will consider making reasonable accommodations. Contact the Executive Director to report this type of absence and obtain any necessary paperwork.

FMLA Leave

The Company provides leave according to the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA), which provides for unpaid, job-protected leave to covered employees in certain circumstances.

To qualify for FMLA leave, eligible employees must: (1) have worked for The Company for at least 12 months, though it need not be consecutive; (2) worked at least 1,250 hours in the last 12 months; and (3) be employed at a work site that has 50 or more employees within 75 miles.

If eligible, employees may take up to 12 or 26 weeks of family or medical leave, whichever is applicable (as explained below), within the relevant 12-month period defined below. While on FMLA leave, The Company will maintain your group health insurance coverage at the same level and under the same circumstances as when you were actively working. During any unpaid leave, employees must continue to contribute the same amount toward medical benefits as he/she paid before the leave began. Upon returning from approved FMLA leave, employees have the right to be restored to the same job or an equivalent position, subject to the terms, limitations and exceptions provided by law.

Approved leave may be taken for any of the following reasons:

- the birth of a child;
- the placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care;
- to care for a spouse, son, daughter, or parent with a serious health condition;
- to care for your own serious health condition, which renders you unable to perform any of the essential functions of your position; or
- a qualifying exigency of a spouse, son, daughter, or parent who is a military member on covered active duty or called to covered active duty status (or has been notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty).

Eligible employees may take up to 26 weeks of unpaid FMLA leave in a single 12-month period, beginning on the first day of FMLA leave, to care for a spouse, son, daughter or next of kin who is a covered service member and who has a serious injury or illness related to active duty service, as defined by the FMLA's regulations (known as military caregiver leave). FMLA leave, other than military caregiver leave, entitles employees to up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave in a single 12-month period.

Notice of Leave

If the need for FMLA leave is foreseeable, employees must notify the Executive Director, in writing, at least 30 days prior to the leave. If this is not possible, employees must at least give notice as soon as practicable (within two (2) business days of learning of your need for leave). Failure to provide such notice may be grounds for delaying FMLA-protected leave, depending on the particular facts and circumstances.

Additionally, if an employee is planning a medical treatment or a series of treatments or is taking military caregiver leave, the employee must consult with administration first regarding the dates of such treatment to work out a schedule that best suits the needs of both the employee or the covered military member, if applicable, and the Company.

Where the need for leave is not foreseeable, employees are expected to notify the Executive Director within two (2) business days of learning of their need for leave, except in extraordinary circumstances.

Certification of Need for Leave

Employees requesting leave because of their own or a covered relation's serious health condition must supply appropriate medical certification. When employees request leave, they will be notified of the requirement for medical certification and when it is due (within 15 days after leave is requested). When possible, a medical certification must be provided before leave begins. Failure to provide requested medical certification in a timely manner may result in denial of FMLA-covered leave until it is provided.

Reporting While on Leave

If an employee takes leave because of his or her own serious health condition or to care for a covered relative, he or she must contact the Executive Director regarding the status of the condition and his or her intention to return to work. In addition, he or she must give notice as soon as practicable (within two (2) business days, if feasible) if the dates of leave change or are extended or initially were unknown.

FMLA leave is unpaid, but employees are required to exhaust any accrued and unused vacation and sick time, if applicable during the otherwise unpaid portion of their FMLA leave. FMLA leave runs concurrently with other types of leave.

Medical and Other Benefits

During approved FMLA leave, the Company will maintain an employee's health benefits as if he or she continued to be actively employed. If accrued and unused paid leave is substituted for unpaid FMLA leave, the Company will deduct the employee's portion of the health plan premium as a regular payroll deduction. If the employee's leave is unpaid, the employee must pay his or her portion of the premium directly. The employee's health care coverage may cease if your premium payment is more than 30 days late. If the employee elects not to return to work for at least 30 calendar days at the end of the leave period, he or she will be required to reimburse the Company for the cost of the health benefit premiums paid by The Company for maintaining coverage during the unpaid leave, unless the employee cannot return to work because of a serious health condition or other circumstances beyond his/her control.

Intermittent and Reduced Schedule Leave

If medically necessary, FMLA leave caused by a serious health condition may be taken intermittently (in separate blocks of time due to a serious health condition) or on a reduced leave schedule (reducing the usual number of hours worked per workweek or workday). FMLA leave may also be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule for a qualifying exigency relating to covered military service.

If leave is unpaid, the Company will reduce your pay for the time actually worked. In addition, while you are on an intermittent or reduced schedule leave, the Company may temporarily transfer you to an available alternative position that better accommodates the leave schedule and has equivalent pay and benefits.

Returning From Leave

If an employee takes leave because of his or her own serious health condition (except if he or she is taking intermittent leave), he or she is required, as are all employees returning from other types of medical leave, to provide medical certification that he or she is fit to resume work. Otherwise, he or she will not be permitted to resume work until it is provided.

Tennessee Maternity Leave

Maternity/paternity leave is granted to employees for a maximum of sixteen (16) weeks, with the first twelve (12) weeks of leave falling under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the remaining four (4) weeks as maternity/paternity leave. You must be employed full-time for at least twelve (12) months to receive maternity/paternity leave.

You must provide at least four to six (4-6) weeks advance notice of your anticipated date of departure, except in those cases where medical emergency prevents this notice, and state the length of your requested leave and your intention to return to full-time employment after the leave. You are required to use your accrued leave (annual, sick, comp, if applicable) during maternity/paternity leave. Accrued leave and maternity/paternity leave are used at the same time – you do not take your accrued leave first and then take maternity/paternity leave.

The purpose of this leave is to provide time off for adoption, pregnancy, childbirth, nursing, and/or bonding with the infant. If the Company finds that you pursued other employment opportunities or worked part-time or full-time for another employer during the period of maternity/paternity leave, then the Company does not have to reinstate you at the end of your leave period.

Pay Rates

CNAs will receive a flat rate of $12 per hour. LPNs/RNs will receive $21 per hour for all weekday shifts. Weekend shifts will be paid at $25 per hour and is applied from 7:00 p.m. Friday through 6:59 a.m. Monday. Ventilator cases will be paid at $24 per hour during the weekday and $25 per hour on the weekends.

Employees with consistently late submissions may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination. Falsified timesheets are punishable by law and are grounds for immediate termination.

Direct Deposits

The Company strongly encourages the use of direct deposit. However, if you choose not to use direct deposit or do not have access to an account that supports direct deposit, you will be enrolled in the pay-card from ADP.

If the employee works multiple pay rates that week, the base rate will be calculated using the “blended rate” method. All overtime hours must be preapproved by Administration.

Examples of sexual harassment may include but are not limited to:

- Sex-oriented verbal joking or kidding

- Patting, pinching or other forms of physical contact
- Demand for sexual favors, accompanied by implied or overt promises of preferential treatment or threats concerning an individual's employment status

Such harassment is prohibited and will not be tolerated.

Harassment Defined

Harassing conduct includes but is not limited to:

Individuals and Conduct Covered

These policies apply to all applicants and employees, whether related to conduct engaged in by fellow employees or someone not directly connected to the Company (e.g., an outside vendor, consultant, or customer).

Conduct prohibited by these policies is unacceptable in the workplace and in any work-related setting outside the workplace, such as during business trips, business meetings, and business-related social events.

Reporting and Investigation Procedures

Any employee, who has experienced or observed harassment or discrimination must report the conduct immediately to the Executive Director or the President. The Company will promptly conduct a thorough investigation of all complaints. The investigation will be conducted as confidentially as possible. When the investigation is completed, the complaining party will be contacted.

Corrective Action

After appropriate investigation, any employee found to have harassed or discriminated against another employee would be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. The Company will likewise take prompt remedial action to address harassment by a vendor or a customer.

Anti-Retaliation Policy

The Company is committed to maintaining a work environment that is free of harassment, intimidation, retaliation and discrimination. The Company strictly prohibits any form of retaliatory action against employees who raise issues or ask questions, make reports, participate in an investigation, refuse to participate in suspected improper or wrongful activity, or exercise workplace rights protected by law. Situations or behaviors that could lead to an employee engaging in a Protected Activity include, but are not limited to the following:

- Discrimination or harassment;
- Fraud;
- Unethical or unprofessional business conduct;
- Non-compliance with The Company's policies/procedures
- Real or potential threats to the Company workers or the public's health and/or safety;
- Violations of local, state or federal laws and regulations;
- Other illegal or improper practices or policies.

Protection from Retaliation

Any employee who engages in Protected Activity will be protected from retaliation. Retaliation occurs when an employer takes an Adverse Action against an employee because she/he engaged in a Protected Activity. Adverse Action includes, but is not limited to:

- Demotion;
- Suspension;

- Termination;
- Failing to hire or consider for hire or promotion;
- Failing to give equal consideration in making employment decisions or to make impartial employment recommendations;
- Adversely impacting working conditions or otherwise denying any employment benefit to an employee;
- Creating a hostile or intimidating work environment.

The Company prohibits retaliation even if the concerns raised are not confirmed following an investigation. However, an employee may be subject to Adverse Action if the employee knowingly made a false allegation, provided false or misleading information in the course of an investigation, or otherwise acted in bad faith. This anti-retaliation policy does not exempt employees from the consequences of their own misconduct or inadequate performance, and self-reporting such issues is not Protected Activity. The policy also does not prevent the Company from managing employee performance and addressing conduct issues after an employee has engaged in Protected Activity, so long as Protected Activity is not the reason for the performance management.

Employee Obligation to Raise Concerns

Employees who believe they have either witnessed retaliation or been personally retaliated against or who have questions concerning this policy, must immediately notify the Executive Director or the President. The Company will treat these reports as confidential to the greatest extent possible. The Company takes all claims of retaliation very seriously and reports will be investigated promptly.

Consequences for Policy Violation

Any employee who retaliates against an employee engaged in a Protected Activity or who otherwise violates this policy is subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires employers to reasonably accommodate qualified individuals with disabilities. The Company will comply with all Federal and State laws concerning the employment of persons with disabilities and will reasonably accommodate qualified individuals with a disability so that they can perform the essential functions of a job. An individual who can be reasonably accommodated for a job without undue hardship will be given the same consideration for that position as any other applicant. If you need to request an accommodation, please contact the Executive Director.

PART 3: GENERAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

This section of the Employee Handbook discusses the employee's responsibilities to the Company and provides guidelines to achieve success in your role as an employee. These are basic expectations and provide you with an indication of what is and is not acceptable performance and conduct. We believe you can perform your duties confidently if you fully understand what is expected of you. An important guideline is to always use "good judgment". If you are unsure, you are encouraged to ask your supervisor. Violation of these policies and procedures may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

Shift Coverage

Nurses and nurse aides are expected to arrive promptly at the beginning of each shift to allow time to give and receive report. You may not leave the shift until report has been given to an on-coming nurse/aide, parent/guardian, or other approved caregiver. Never give report to or leave a patient with a minor. Failure to give report as required or leaving a patient with a minor is considered abandonment or negligence by the State and will be reported as such.

Nurses and nurse aides may not leave during the shift to take breaks, run errands, pick up lunch, etc. You are expected to work the entire shift that you agreed to work unless an emergency occurs. We understand these instances will occur from time to time. If you must leave your shift due to an emergency, call the office immediately. If the parent/guardian is not home to assume care, the office staff will attempt to contact them to return home as soon as possible or find alternative coverage, if possible. Once report is given to an approved caregiver or co-worker, please call the office with your time of departure.

On rare occasions, a nurse or aide may be preapproved to leave a shift for a short amount of time if the parent agrees to assume care. In this instance, the current nursing note must be completed with departure time and the full name of the person taking report needs to be documented. When you return to complete the shift, a new nursing note must be started with your arrival time, who report was received from, and a new assessment.

All schedule changes must be preapproved by a staffing coordinator. Schedule changes also apply to parents/guardians requesting to change hours or nurses. If you are asked to make changes, you must call the office for approval to ensure we remain within the approved number of hours.

As described in Part 1 of the handbook, excessive absenteeism and/or tardiness will not be tolerated. Likewise, "no call no shows" are inconsiderate and unprofessional and will not be tolerated. Violation of any aforementioned policies may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

Removal from a Case

There will be times when conflicts of personalities occur in the patient's home between nurses, parents/guardians, or other family members. It is important that these situations are handled with the utmost professionalism. Never argue with a patient, parent/guardian, or family member. If you are asked to leave a patient's home and not return, you must report this to the office immediately. In some cases, the parent/guardian will allow the nurse to complete the shift but will call and request the nurse not return. If you are notified by the office not to return to a case, do not contact the family for any reason. Contacting the family may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

A 72-hour notice is also expected from any nurse requesting to be removed from a case or cancelling permanent shifts. Exceptions to this timeframe will be made in situations where safety is a concern.

Annual Skills Competency

All nurses and nurse aides will be required to complete yearly online competency testing and in-person skills check off. The Compliance Supervisor will contact you to schedule a time. This is not optional and should be treated as a shift. Cancellations for skills check off follow the same attendance policy as outlined in Part 1 of the handbook.

Personal Appearance/Dress Code

As an employee of the Company, you are expected to present a clean and professional appearance when representing No Place Like Home, Inc. A cheerful, positive attitude is an essential component of your appearance and helps to achieve our commitment of delivering high quality care.

Scrubs are required when providing patient care. Company issued t-shirts are also approved with scrub pants. There may be families that prefer their nurses or aides wear regular clothing. If so, you must notify the office. If not wearing scrubs, employees should use good judgment in choosing appropriate attire when on duty. Attire deemed inappropriate would include, but is not limited to the following:

- Loungewear or pajamas
- Ripped clothing
- Athletic clothing/leggings
- T-shirts with vulgar language or pictures
- Shorts
- Tank tops, tube tops, or sleeveless tops
- Revealing or tight clothing
- Open-toed footwear or flip flops
- Long earrings or bulky jewelry

- Oversized clothing

Fingernails should be clean and no longer than ¼ inch past the fingertip. Fragrance should be kept to a minimum, if worn at all. Hair should be clean and tied back to avoid contact with patients.

Identification Badges

Employees will be issued an identification badge upon hire. While it is not required that the badge be worn at all times; it is expected that employees should be able to present their badge at any time while on duty. However, the badge should be worn/visible when arriving at a patient's home for orientation, and at all times when outside of the patient's home on patient related business. Lost badges must be reported to NPLH immediately for replacement. Initial replacements are complimentary; additional replacements will incur a $3.00 fee, deducted from the employee's payroll.

Cell Phones

Employees must always have access to a cell phone while providing patient care in case of an emergency. Personal calls, including the use of all hands-free devices, should be reserved for emergencies only.

The Company requires all drivers to comply with state regulations regarding the use of cellular devices while operating a motor vehicle. Texting while operating a motor vehicle is strictly prohibited. Violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

Seat Belts

Employees are expected to wear a seat belt while operating a vehicle or riding in a vehicle when representing the Company. Violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

Progressive Discipline

No Place Like Home, Inc. is committed to establishing and maintaining a formal system of employee discipline which ensures that the rules and standards of conduct are adhered to by all employees and discipline is equitably and uniformly administered. In determining the appropriate disciplinary action to take, the following factors will be considered: length of service, past disciplinary action, seriousness of misconduct, employee explanation, and any other pertinent facts. Disciplinary actions may consist of the following stages: verbal warning, written warning, suspension, and termination. Based upon the seriousness of the misconduct, the actions may not be taken in order and there may be situations where one or more steps are bypassed at the Company's discretion.

Verbal Warning

A Supervisor, Executive Director or President will:

- clearly explain the reason(s) for the verbal warning,

- describe the disciplinary process for misconduct, and
- record the date and reason(s) for the verbal warning in the employee's personnel file.

Written Warning

A Supervisor, Executive Director or President will:

- issue a written warning after the second offense if the misconduct is minor in nature. If the misconduct is more severe, the written warning may be issued after the first offence.

A probationary period may be imposed to allow the employee time to improve. The terms and condition of the probationary period will be clearly explained to the employee.

The employee will be asked to sign the written warning verifying the warning was discussed with them and they received a copy. The employees signature does not constitute agreement with the content but rather receipt of the written warning.

Suspension

Termination

An employee will be terminated:

- if, after receiving verbal and written warnings, misconduct continues to occur,
- after a very serious offense has occurred,

Dated, written notification which outlines the reason(s) for termination, will be hand delivered or sent to the employee via certified mail. A copy will be placed in the employee's personnel file.
